

Daily Language Review

Monday

Grammar	Underline an adjective in the sentence and then say whether it tells: opinion, size, age, shape, amount, or color. That popular star has many loyal fans. _____
Punctuation	A simple sentence has one subject part and one predicate part. A compound sentence has two or more simple sentences joined by and, or, or but. Read each sentence below. If it is a simple sentence then write simple sentence. If it is a compound sentence add a comma. John went to the show but he forgot his wallet. _____
Vocabulary	Read the sentences below. Find the idiom that best completes the sentence and write it on the line. <table style="width: 100%;"><tr><td>the cream of the crop</td><td>missed the boat</td></tr><tr><td>barking up the wrong tree</td><td>butterflies in my stomach</td></tr><tr><td>the icing on the cake</td><td>heard it through the grapevine</td></tr><tr><td>bull in a china shop</td><td>play it by ear</td></tr><tr><td>cost an arm and a leg</td><td>head in the clouds</td></tr></table> She doesn't use a cookbook when baking pies and like to _____ _____.	the cream of the crop	missed the boat	barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach	the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine	bull in a china shop	play it by ear	cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds
the cream of the crop	missed the boat
barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach
the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine
bull in a china shop	play it by ear
cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds

Daily Language Review

Tuesday

Grammar	Underline an adjective in the sentence and then say whether it tells: opinion, size, age, shape, amount, or color. The smallest building was destroyed. _____
Punctuation	A simple sentence has one subject part and one predicate part. A compound sentence has two or more simple sentences joined by and, or, or but. Read each sentence below. If it is a simple sentence then write simple sentence. If it is a compound sentence add a comma. The basketball players stretched before the game. _____
Vocabulary	Read the sentences below. Find the idiom that best completes the sentence and write it on the line. <table border="1"><tr><td>the cream of the crop</td><td>missed the boat</td></tr><tr><td>barking up the wrong tree</td><td>butterflies in my stomach</td></tr><tr><td>the icing on the cake</td><td>heard it through the grapevine</td></tr><tr><td>bull in a china shop</td><td>play it by ear</td></tr><tr><td>cost an arm and a leg</td><td>head in the clouds</td></tr></table> We cannot take the toddler to the art museum because he is like a _____. _____.	the cream of the crop	missed the boat	barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach	the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine	bull in a china shop	play it by ear	cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds
the cream of the crop	missed the boat
barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach
the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine
bull in a china shop	play it by ear
cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds

Daily Language Review

Wednesday

Grammar	Underline an adjective in the sentence and then say whether it tells: opinion, size, age, shape, amount, or color. The two old maple trees are beautiful in the fall. _____
Punctuation	A simple sentence has one subject part and one predicate part. A compound sentence has two or more simple sentences joined by and, or, or but. Read each sentence below. If it is a simple sentence then write simple sentence. If it is a compound sentence add a comma. The team will play together or they will lose the game.
Vocabulary	Read the sentences below. Find the idiom that best completes the sentence and write it on the line. <table border="1"><tr><td>the cream of the crop</td><td>missed the boat</td></tr><tr><td>barking up the wrong tree</td><td>butterflies in my stomach</td></tr><tr><td>the icing on the cake</td><td>heard it through the grapevine</td></tr><tr><td>bull in a china shop</td><td>play it by ear</td></tr><tr><td>cost an arm and a leg</td><td>head in the clouds</td></tr></table> I cannot afford to buy a new car because it would _____ _____.	the cream of the crop	missed the boat	barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach	the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine	bull in a china shop	play it by ear	cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds
the cream of the crop	missed the boat
barking up the wrong tree	butterflies in my stomach
the icing on the cake	heard it through the grapevine
bull in a china shop	play it by ear
cost an arm and a leg	head in the clouds

Daily Language Review

Thursday

Grammar	Underline an adjective in the sentence and then say whether it tells: opinion, size, age, shape, amount, or color. That large white car looks expensive. _____
Punctuation	A simple sentence has one subject part and one predicate part. A compound sentence has two or more simple sentences joined by and, or, or but. Read each sentence below. If it is a simple sentence then write simple sentence. If it is a compound sentence add a comma. The class is quiet during the test or they will not pass.
Vocabulary	Read the sentences below. Find the idiom that best completes the sentence and write it on the line. the cream of the crop missed the boat barking up the wrong tree butterflies in my stomach the icing on the cake heard it through the grapevine bull in a china shop play it by ear cost an arm and a leg head in the clouds Sara daydreams all of the time and has her _____ _____.